Bible Thought for the week

The God of Love Does Hate...

It is unbelievable to some people that God could hate. They consider Him as only a God of love. The reasoning is based on the major premise that God is love.

That is true. The minor premise is that love is the opposite of hate, and that is also true. Then the conclusion they draw is that God cannot hate anything, but that is not true. God is love, but He hates evil.

We see this same principle in human relationships. You love your little child, but you hate the illness that is in his body. You love your child, but you hate the mad dog with the foaming mouth that comes into your yard and attempts to bite your child. If you love the child, you will hate the mad dog. As long as there is a world of contrasts, a world in which sin has entered; we will love the right and hate the wrong. Or, on the other hand, if you love sin, then you will hate righteousness (John. 3:20). The Word of God tells us to love the good and hate the evil. There is "a time to love, and a time to hate..." (Ecclesiastes 3:8).

In Proverbs, Chapter Six, we read: "There are six things the Lord hates, seven that are detestable to him: haughty eyes, a lying tongue, hands that shed innocent blood, a heart that devises wicked schemes, feet that are quick to rush into evil, a false witness who pours out lies and a man who stirs up dissension among brothers." God definitely says that He hates these things, and we ought to put them on our "hate list" also.

This is not the first time God has stated that He hates something. You see other examples in Deuteronomy 16:22, Psalms 45:7, and Revelation 2:6. May we "hate what is evil, cling to what is good" (Romans 12:9).
